College Opens With Freshman Day Tuesday

Other Students Enroll Wednesday: Classes Begin At 8 o'clock Today

8 OF FIRST-YEAR STUDENTS

Activities of the fall quarter began to get under way Tuesday morning when freshmen and upperclassmen, administrative officers and faculty members of the College, returned to "the hill" to begin another term of scholastic pursuit and social life.

Students and faculty members had been in recess since the closing of the summer quarter Aug. 5, or since the close of the spring quarter the last of May. For the most part, however, administrative officers and their assistants were engaged in official affairs of the College throughout the vacation.

Freshmen were engaged the greater part of the day that is annually set aside for the beginning of their college life, that day being held Tuesday of this week. On that day an assembly for the first year students was held in the College auditorium at which time Dr. J. C. Miller, dean of the College faculty, was the principal speaker and Mr. A. H. (Bert) Cooper, member of the education faculty, was the "master of ceremonies."

In the assembly, Mr. Cooper introduced Dr. Margaret Ruth Smith, new director of women's activities, who spoke briefly to the assembly. Mr. Cooper also introduced Mr. Norval Saylor, director of men's activities, Alex Sawyer, president of the student Young Men's Christian Association, and Frederick Schneider, vice-president of the Student Government Association. Members of the Student Senate and assistants in freshman day proceedings were also introduced.

The enrollment of freshmen at the end of last Tuesday stood at 18, according to Mr. V. E. Bird, treasurer of the College board of regents.

Seven Additions Made to College Faculty This Fall

Vacancies Filled; New Instructors In Departments to Lessen Teaching Load

Seven new faces appeared on the staff of the College faculty as classes began this week for another Fall quarter. Announcement of the new members was made from the administrative offices of the College last week.

Several vacancies made it necessary to employ the present number of new instructors, and in several instances, teachers were engaged in the various departments to lighten the burden of teachers already in those departments.

NYA Allotment At College is Cut One-Half

The Amount For Employment Is $7,155 This Year; Last Year Was $14,850

WILL EMPLOY 76 STUDENTS

Dropping from a total of $14,850 last year to $7,155 this year, the National Youth Administration allotment for the College was cut in half for 1937-38, it was announced last week by Pres. Uel W. Lamkin.

The allotment this year is based on 8 per cent of the 1936 College enrollment of students under 25 years of age, instead of the 18 per cent allotment of September, 1934, as was the case last year.

More than 500 applicants for NYA positions were received by the administrative offices of the College this summer, and approximately seventy-six students will be employed.

It was announced that preference was shown to students who were on last year's payroll because if they had done their work satisfactorily, they were entitled to retain their positions. Of the seventy-six employed this year, fourteen are from Nodaway county, it was announced.

An almost equal number of men and women are employed under the NYA program. Eligibility is one year to be one and good scholarship. Persons on the student relief program average approximately 60 hours of work per month.

Teaching By Unit Plan is Discussed

The unit plan of teaching in elementary schools was discussed in the College auditorium Aug. 28 at a meeting of Nodaway county teachers. About 200 teachers attended the meeting.

Outlining the "areas" into which the subjects under the new course of study are divided, Superintendent more, delivered the address of the meeting. He divided the courses as follows:

1. Language arts. Under this heading reading, writing, spelling, oral and written language and functional grammar are included.
2. Social studies including historical stories, United States history, Missouri history, geography and citizenship.
3. Elementary science, taking up the study of health and hygiene, the physical and scientific aspects of geography and nature study.
4. Fine arts, including children's classics, art and music.
5. Recreational arts.
6. Health in connection with physical education and safety is included in this division.
7. Elementary general agriculture, and
8. Guidance.

The speaker urged the integration of subject matter—the unit system plan—and a tie-up of related studies in the class room, thereby broadening the scope of each student's knowledge in different phases of work. He said that the teacher must be the judge as to how far the branching out in each subject should go.

That schools everywhere would soon adopt the unit plan of teaching was the idea expressed by Charles Wallace, superintendent of schools at Hopkins. He defined the unit system as a system whereby the various subjects are grouped under a single heading and are taught as one.

Mr. Wallace expressed the belief that the teachers can succeed in their teaching under the unit plan if they so desire. Some teachers, he said, have been frightened by the unit plan because of its newness, but that they should feel confident of their work in the new undertaking.

C. E. Avis, a representative of a drawing company, spoke to the assembly of teachers on instruction in art.

Redecorating Work Now Completed sent brown and tan walls and red floors.

Woodwork and floors in eighteen rooms in the Administration building were painted in the redecorating program. The painting, including that done in the halls, rooms and other places in the building, covers some 116,525 square feet of space. About 25,400 square feet of floor space was painted, as was 71,125 square feet of ceiling and wall space and 20,000 miscellaneous square feet.

Graham Malotte, Maryville, was foreman of the twenty men employed on the project, and Assistant Business Manager Roy Ferguson was supervisor of the work.

The College furnished all paint for the project with the exception of that used on the floors of the building. The sand-finished ceilings in the building caused one of the main problems which arose during the painting.

College classes during the summer term held session as usual despite the fact that students were sometimes "detoured" in order to reach a classroom without having paint on the bottom of his shoes or elsewhere on his person.

Changes In MIAA Football Rules

The 1937 meeting of the rules committee held last week in New York City effected the following changes in football rules for this year:

1. Kickoff—only one will be allowed. If the ball is kicked out of bounds, it is to be put in play by opponents on their own 35-yard line, or 10 yards in from where it crossed the sideline—whichever is more advantageous.

2. Numbers—are required on both front and back of all players.

3. Receivers—of forward passes get less protection. "It must be remembered that defensive players have as much right to the ball as the eligible opponents and bodily contact, however severe, between players who are making a 'bona fide' attempt to catch or bat the ball shall not be construed as interference."

4. A free ball—is kicked only with the foot. "A free ball strikes a portion of a player's body other than his foot. This is not to be considered as kicking." There will be no penalty, even if a player pushes the ball with his nose for several yards.

The above rules were published recently by the Associated Press.

The Revolutionary Pen That Won't Run Dry In a New and Superlative Model—the Speedline

It's not how much a person has in his pocket that determines whether or not he selects the new 1938 Parker Speedline Vacumatic—it's how much he has above his shoulders!

Some other pens cost as much as this revolutionary invention, yet no one having the "low down" on pens wants to pay these prices without getting these new-day advantages. For example:

A new all-time high in ink capacity, hence a Pen that never starts anything it cannot finish. A Pen that shows the ENTIRE ink supply—shows when to refill —hence one that never runs dry in classes or exams.

An utterly exclusive Style—laminated Pearl and Jet—now with slender Speedline shape—the most restful ever conceived.

And not merely modern in Style, but wholly modern in mechanism, too. Its SACLESS and patented Diaphragm Filler radically departs from all earlier types, regardless of whether they have a rubber ink sac or not.

Be sure to see and try this pedigreed Beauty today at any good pen counter. The Parker Pen Co., Janesville, Wisconsin.

It will be short and sweet but hard to beat, so here it comes.

It seems like our dear ole editor and his gal fren Fuzz, are that way more and more this year.

Rosy you must be slipping, going back to an old one when there are plenty of new men around. Better get wise.

I do believe that Jim's younger brother, Dick, will be a better Don Juan than Jim ever was.

RAY DICE TELLS OF STATE STUDY COURSE

Ray Dice, state inspector of rural schools in Northwest Missouri, spoke to more than 100 teachers of rural and grade schools in Nodaway county in a meeting in the College auditorium last Saturday on "The Aims of the State Course of Study."

The speaker pointed out that the new state course of study has been worked out and is being used extensively in Nodaway county schools in conjunction with or as a part of the new study unit plan.

"Child Welfare" was discussed before the group by Miss Frances Sandusky, state probation worker stationed in Maryville. The 4-H club work of Nodaway county was discussed at the meeting by James Meyers, assistant county agent and county 4-H club leader.

W. H. Burr, county superintendent of schools, was in charge of the meeting.

UNDERRATES FRESHMEN

Toledo, O.—(ACP)—Even instructors can make mistakes in judgment. Apparently this one underrated the freshmen.

Setting: an English class at the University of Toledo. Motivator: Instructor James M. McCrimmon, who had just delivered a vigorous speech on the "evils of plagiarism." Then he assigned the class a theme topic.

Upon grading the papers, McCrimmon found some amazingly similar work. At the next session of his section he said:

"There are four or five themes which I am certain were copied. If the students who turned them in will come to my office after class to claim them, there will be no penalty."

When the class hour was over, McCrimmon returned to his office. Within an hour after, sixteen different students called to claim their themes.

PROBLEMS OF THE COLLEGE STUDENT

By Dr. Fred McKinney, assistant professor of psychology, University of Missouri, secretary, Missouri Association for Mental Hygiene.

Every college student enters as a freshman with problems which must be solved adequately within the next few years if he is to lead a healthy mental life. There may be personal problems regarding his social life, sex life, religious life, emotional life, educational career, vocation, physical make-up, health and the ability to live with himself.

Specifically, the student may be worried about failure to "make" a fraternity or sorority, lack of friends, lack of clothes, social position or money, shame in regard to family, race or origin. Among the sex problems are temptations resulting from greater freedom and responsibility, doubts, uncertainty, and confusion over varying standards and morals of associates, ignorance regarding the normality of certain bewildering physiological phenomena, and repression instead of expression in wholesome activity. Depression may result from religious problems as the loss of childhood faith, a conflict between the church and a newly acquired point of view or a realization that his religion is not tolerantly received in some communities.

Emotional Disturbances

Emotional disturbances include depressions, feelings of insecurity, anxieties, fears and tendencies to rebel against thwartings of various kinds. Causes of such tendencies are too numerous to mention here. They range from depression over not receiving a bid to a certain party to suspension from school as a penalty for misconduct. Dissatisfactions, befuddlements, and embarrassments fill the life of the over-ambitious, active, older adolescent or youth. Feelings of inferiority, unpopularity, self-consciousness, and lack of confidence are also quite characteristic of this period of development. Various fears originate at this time and may become strong enough to dominate the individual.

Failure in a Course

During college failure in a course sometimes occurs for the first time in the student's scholastic career and is therefore an event which colors the mental life of the individual for sometime. College students frequently realize after reaching the university that a vocation which has been cherished in day-dreams is not to be a reality. A young man anticipating a career as an engineer may realize that he is not a mathematician; a young premed may learn that he has great difficulty passing the "weeder" courses. A law student may wake up to the fact in his senior year that one hundred other embryonic lawyers will keep him company in a search for a position of location. Many a senior dons cap and gown and shudders in the realization that he has no vocation he can call his own, and more tragically, is ignorant of means to discover his talents.

Physical Characteristics

Countless anguished moments have been spent brooding over an imagined or actual long nose, big ears, a scar, a peculiarly shaped jaw or head, short stature, or lank body. A youth ignorant of personal hygiene may mistake certain natural changes or processes as indices of ill health. He may worry over disease troubling others in the family, or should he himself be suffering from a chronic ailment he may make his life miserable by viewing the effects of the disease with a pessimistic slant. Some persons find that their worst enemy is their own consciousness and inner experiences. These individuals are prone to dwell excessively upon this subjective life. Dreams trouble them by night, persistent ideas haunt them by day, compulsions ruin their poise and feelings of unreality disturb their peace of mind.

The Subconscious

In addition to these problems which the student faces frankly or ponders between efforts in repression, there are the problems which he refuses to face. These are banished from consciousness but continue to influence behavior. Much of the extreme emotionally-toned behavior noticed in daily social intercourse is of this type. These outcroppings take the form of extreme prudery, overactivity, seclusiveness, suspicion, loneliness, chronic fatigue, insomnia, and nightmares. Flagrant discipline offenses, indecorum, stealing, lying, rebelliousness, unusual mannerisms, and braggadocio are also sometimes symptomatic of maladjustments. Less usual disorders as fits, paralysis, exhibitionistic episodes, speech defects and psychoses fall within this group. In these cases the college student may not realize that his difficulties are rooted in maladjustment. He may never have analyzed or taken account of his behavior. His house-mates and associates may notice only too well his consistent tendencies to prevaricate, his pilfering of personal belongings and school supplies or his affectations and bragging. Many deans of men and women no longer look on these types of behavior together with cases of excessive class cutting, failing grades from good students, chronic inebriation, insubordinate as an outcropping of innate perversity or incorrigibility. More and more college administrators are detecting these behavior signs as symptoms of deeper trouble. They have learned that when the more profound disturbance is alleviated the symptoms disappear.

Former Faculty Member to Teach In Business College

E. W. Mounce Is Appointed to the Faculty of Johnson School In St. Joseph

E. W. Mounce, formerly head of the department of Commerce and Business Administration at the College, has been appointed to the faculty of the Johnson School of Business in St. Joseph, according to William E. Johnson, head of the institution. Mr. Mounce will teach classes in both the day and night schools. On the Teachers College faculty for 6 years, Mr. Mounce established a law office in St. Joseph several months ago. He was a member of the faculty of William Jewell College, Liberty, for three years and also served on the faculties of Central Missouri State Teachers College, Warrensburg, and the University of Redlands, Redlands, Cal. For about two and a half years he was employed by the federal government in educational work.

Mr. Mounce attended the University of Missouri from which he holds a bachelor of arts degree in social science; bachelor of science degree in business administration; master's degree in social science and doctor's degree in law. A part of his law training was obtained at the University of Kansas.

Bearcats Whipping In Shape for Peru Game Next Week

Members of Maryville Squad Have Been in Training For Past Two Weeks

The Maryville Bearcats football team, under the tutorship of Coaches Ryland Milner and Wilbur Stalcup, will meet the Peru, Neb., Bobcats on the local gridiron one week from tomorrow night in the first encounter of the present season.

Little is known of the Bobcat aggregation, since it has had no games so far this season, but in the local camp things have been happening since football practice began one week ago last Monday. Head Coach Milner, however, has not announced his lineup for the opening game.

Two weeks ago, Coach Milner called his football men from all over the state to Maryville for the annual football camp which held session until enrollment day last Tuesday. Two practice sessions were held daily during the first week of camp.

Moleskins were issued to the men when they registered for the camp Monday morning, and light scrimmages were held the remainder of that week. Approximately fifty men reported for the camp and have gone through the daily practices since the opening of the camp period.

Lettermen who reported for practice last week were John Zuchowski, St. Joseph, and Clifton Cox, Westboro, ends; R. E. "Zeke" Kiou, Carroll, Ia., Harry Irvine, Fairfax, and Ed Molitoris, Virdin, Ill., tackles; Robert and Marlon Rogers, Jackson, and Andrew Zembles, St. Joseph, guards; Everett Richards, Thomasville, Ga., center; Bill Bernau, Earlham, Ia., Walter Moore, Richmond, and Lester Brewer, Princeton, backfield men.

Six men were lost to the team last year by graduation. They were Walter Rulon, Shenandoah, Ia., Herschel Neil, Grandview, Don Francis, St. Joseph, Glen Rouse, Princeton, Arthur Yates, Smithville, and Lloyd Flanders, Cameron.

A new system of coaching was put into effect the first week of football camp as Coach Ryland Milner, for the past four years' coach of the Jackson, Mo., high school team, took over the reigns from E. A. "Lefty" Davis, who has been elected director of athletics for the College. Intensive drill in blocking and punting was held during the first few days of the practice camp.

Bill Bernau has been practicing punting during the sessions, a duty which he performed with merit during the 1935 season, and Everett Richards, center, has been called from the line in some instances to do kicking duty. Norman Reital, St. Joseph, Bill Bernau and Enos French, Houston, Tex., have had practice in carrying the pigskin.

Camp observations indicate that Coach Milner will use a heavy line and a light backfield when his teams take the field to attempt to carry the green and white colors to victory. However, it is difficult to predict in just what fashion the men may be shifted about.

Receiving practice in the center position is Ike Howell, Columbus, Ga., "giant" of M. S. T. C. He was unable to report for football last season because shoes could not be furnished that would fit his feet. But this year he is outfitted and is out for a line position.

Arthur "Doc" Yates, one of last year's star backfield men who is ineligible this year because he has only a few hours to graduate, will probably be in charge of the B squad when it plays games away from Maryville.

DEAN ADVISES CAUTION

Amherst, Mass.—(ACP)—If you planning to seek campus position just for the "prestige" that goes with them, step warily!

That is the advice Walter Price Eaton, of the Yale University School of Drama, gave Massachusetts State College students.

Extra-curricular activities sometimes become "merely a log in the educational process. Take what you learn in the classroom and apply it to life through extra-curricular activities," he said.

ONCE MORE THE FANS ARE GUESSING

Football Scores Every Thursday and Saturday With Chesterfield's Eddie Dooley

It's a sure sign the football season is on again. Dartmouth's famous All American quarterback, Eddie Dooley, is back on the air over Columbia Coast-to-Coast Network every Thursday and Saturday with his last-minute football news.

The makers of Chesterfield Cigarettes, sponsors of Eddie Dooley, are certainly making a bow to wide interest in sports news. The baseball series this year, with Paul Douglas, satisfied fans North, East, South and West, and the Dooley football programs will be on a larger scale than ever before, necessitating two complete talks on each broadcast date; one at 6:30 P. M. New York Time for the East and Middle West, and one at 8:30 P. M. New York time to cover the games of the fans in the Rocky Mountain States and the Far West.

In addition to firing away every Thursday with his uncanny predictions of the week-end results and reviewing the highlights of games each Saturday, Dooley plans to have leading football coaches and authorities as guests on his programs from time to time. And speaking of authorities, Dooley himself considered by football followers one of America's outstanding experts on the game. Jock Sutherland, the well-known Pittsburgh member once remarked that Eddie Dooley had done more for the game of football than any former college player he knew of. At the present time, in addition to being constantly in demand for magazine articles on football, Eddie is holding down an important berth in the sports department of the New York Sun in association with well-known sportswriters like Grantland Rice and George Trevor. His training background as one of the outstanding field generals the East ever produced, has given him remarkable insight into the whys and wherefores of football plays and his judgment on the football news makes his broadcasts far beyond ordinary interest.

The Eddie Dooley football programs bid fair to be top-notch sports programs in every respect even to the personality of the announcer, Paul Douglas, who is himself one of radio's best-known sport commentators and carried the baseball banner for Chesterfield on Columbia network all through 1937 season. The big kick-off of week for football followers comes when the whistle blows for Eddie Dooley every Thursday, and pay-off will come the following Saturdays when the fans tune in to see if Dooley's dope was right.

"WELCOME, STUDENTS"

THE NORTHWEST MISSOURIAN, in its first issue, takes the opportunity of welcoming the old and new, to the College for another year of scholastic and social life. The new term will no doubt hold many new and varied experiences for students who have attended this institution in former years, and will most certainly for those who will soon don the traditional green cap or beret in recognition of the fact that they are first year students.

Usually does this newspaper wish to extend welcome and best wishes of the administration, faculty and old students to the members of the freshman class. It is true that the upperclassmen will have a bit of light hazing in the first year student program, but that is merely their method of making the freshmen that "We're glad to see you."

Students who graduated last spring from high school and who have enrolled in the College this fall, will find their environments completely changed. That is where the upperclassmen—now "the wool," to the new environment—come in. They are willing and able to initiate the first year students into their new surroundings to the advantage. So with the help of the administration, faculty and old students, freshmen will soon be adjusted and will enjoy the four years of College life more than any others in their lifetimes.

With all sincerity, then, that this newspaper on behalf of the entire College, says: "Welcome, Students!"

AN INVITATION

At the beginning of every quarter, THE NORTHWEST MISSOURIAN—weekly official publication of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College—issues an invitation to the students of this institution. Consequently, partly in keeping with tradition but mostly in order to provide a means of expression for those with writing ability, this newspaper cordially extends the invitation to each and every student caring to do so to contribute to the publication.

At the beginning of the Fall quarter a Journalism Press club is organized and is composed of contributing staff of THE NORTHWEST MISSOURIAN. Any student with newspaper writing ability and a desire to learn to write in journalistic style is urged to attend the meetings and to take part in the activities of that organization. Meeting will be published in THE MISSOURIAN and will be posted on the College's main bulletin board. It is hoped that the contributors will make it a point to attend those meetings regularly.

There is no charge or fee connected with membership in the Press club, and for satisfactory work a student is justly compensated. A maximum of three hours credit will be given for a student's report cards upon the satisfactory completion of a year's work.

RETURN FROM ABROAD

Last summer three members of the College had the rare experience and pleasure of attending the annual conference of the World Federation of Education Associations in Tokio, Japan. An interesting and educational time was had by those people from this institution in that now rapidly militarizing country.

Students and faculty members attempted as best they could to "keep in touch" with the three representatives for they knew that in that far-away country, war-clouds were turning blacker and becoming more heavy. Fortunately those representatives steered clear of the zones where war seemed almost inevitable.

Anxious eyes scanned the daily papers for word of our delegates and of the conference which they attended. But the best word came when the president of this institution delivered from Tokio an address over an international radio hook-up. His words gave people who heard them the feeling that all was safe and that the College faculty members had had a truly inspiring and educational experience at the convention.

The College is proud of our Pres. Uel W. Lamkin—one of the world's outstanding personalities in education today.

THE BEARCATS WORK OUT

For an entire week before most students in the College have returned for the Fall quarter, the Bearcats—Maryville's addition to the football world—have been practicing on the local gridiron for the ensuing football season. Coaches Ryland Milner and Wilbur Stalcup have been "running the men through the mill" for football team places in the hopes that they could mold a team that would rank "tops" in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association, of which the College is a member.

Daily the men have been putting in practice sessions so that they might bring honor and glory to the Maryville College.

All of those practice sessions are well and good, but they alone will not bring victories in the ensuing games. It is the responsibility of every man and woman in the College to help the team win those games. If fifty men can practice for weeks and play their hardest in games all for the honor and glory of their Alma Mater, surely and undoubtedly the student body of this College can sacrifice one night each week to help give its team a "boost."

Every student in this College can help his team on the road to victory by appearing at each and every game this fall. If ever a team is inspired to the point of playing harder in order to win a game, it is when the members of that team are confident that there is a group of students on the sidelines who are boosting for a victory.

It is hoped that each student in the College will make it his duty to be at the gridiron for each game prepared to aid the pepleaders in the installation into the team of that necessary winning "boost."

CAMPUS COMMENT

It was a grand and glorious feeling the first of this week to see students "roll in" from all parts of the country and return to "the hill" for nine months of scholastic pursuit and fun. In the halls of the administration building and on the campus old friends were greeting each other with a warm, sincere handclasp and a "I'm glad to see you back." There were many new faces, too, which will soon begin to appear familiar at all activities of the College, and we are glad to have them with us on more or less common terms. Seemingly, the only thing necessary to make the picture complete were faces of our friends who last year made their exits from our midsts with certificates or diplomas in their possessions.

In all of our welcoming, we with pleasure greet the instructors and administrative officers of the College. We, the students, are thankful for a corps of learned instructors on the faculty, and feel certain that we shall profit in more ways than one from our contacts with the teachers. Especially we would welcome those several new instructors to the faculty of this College.

THE FETID CALF

New I. A. Annex Will Be Ready Soon for Occupancy

Structure To Permit Considerable Expansion In Work Of That Department

The new industrial arts annex to the present building will soon be ready for occupancy, according to administrative officers of the College. The work was begun the first of the past summer and is almost completed at the present time.

Fred Davidson, Barnard, a junior in the College and editor-in-chief of next year's Tower, drew the plans for the new building in a drawing class under Mr. Donald N. Valk, chairman of the industrial arts department.

Increased enrollments in industrial arts courses have made the new annex a necessity, according to Mr. Valk. A sum of $10,000 will be spent for the structure which will be 71 feet long, 38 feet wide and which will join the present building on the east.

The new annex will permit considerable expansion in the work in the industrial arts department, Mr. Valk said. Previously industrial arts courses have dealt mainly with wood work and drawing, with a minimum of metal work.

On the first floor of the new building will be a new general metal unit including a new machine shop, a foundry, forging, sheet metal and art metal equipment. The office of Mr. Valk will be located on the first floor as well as an automotive and electrical department and a new lecture room and a wood and metal finishing room.

The north half of the second floor will house a new drafting room, while the south half will be devoted to Miss Mary Fisher's classes in elementary industrial arts. Departmental work will thus be more centralized.

Training school classes will utilize the present drafting room located on the second floor of the present building. The present room will be a model training school room of the general shop activity type. Vitalized agriculture classes will also be housed in this room.

Four main divisions in the future plan of development along industrial arts lines are as follows, according to Mr. Valk: 1. The general metal division which has been explained. 2. General wood shop, which includes hand bench work, machine wood working, wood finishing, wood turning and pattern making. 3. General drafting, which includes machine drawing, mechanisms, architectural drawing and blue printing. 4. Miss Fisher's work which includes the preparation of elementary teachers for industrial arts instruction in the grades.

The new Bearcat football coach, Mr. Ryland Milner, will spend half of his time teaching in the wood shop at the industrial arts building this fall.

4-H MEETING IN PARK

Farm boys and girls—members of 4-H clubs of Northwest Missouri—were encamped in a tented city in the College park August 6-10 when the annual 4-H camp held session there. "Wild life" was studied during the four-day camp.

Approximately 500 boys and girls attended the camp. Food was served the campers at the park. E. H. Carter, of Andrew county, was in charge of the camp's program.

COUNTY GROUP FAVORS SALARIED SECRETARY

In a meeting Aug. 28, the Nodaway County High School Athletic Association went on record as favoring placing a full-time salaried secretary in office for the Missouri High School Athletic Association. The resolution was made at a meeting of coaches and school administrators in connection with the teachers meeting held here at that time.

Vance Geiger, Hopkins, and Lew Wallace, Clearmont, were appointed to a committee to investigate the movement and to contact other athletic associations of the district. It was suggested that Ed Adams, Forest City, be contacted to speak before the district teachers meeting next month on the duties and responsibilities of the full-time secretary in Iowa.

Coaches present at the meeting decided to conduct a county-wide basketball tournament this fall. They decided to attempt to have the games in Maryville.

The Association reorganized at the meeting by electing a board of control. The board is comprised of the following educators: Vance Geiger, Hopkins; Eldon Steiger, Ravenwood; and Kyle Graham, Quitman. They succeed Rev. Fr. Andrew Kunkel, Clyde; Harry Haun, Graham; and Lewis Wallace, Clearmont. L. B. Conway, Burlington Junction, was reelected secretary-treasurer of the group.

Other members of the Senate who assisted last Tuesday with enrollment day activities were Miller Weeda, Maryville, senior; Mary Peck, Fairfax, senior; Harl Holt, Maryville, senior; and Paul Strohm, Maryville, junior. Aides who assisted were: Edwardena Harrison, Burlington Junction, senior; Glenna Smith, St. Joseph, senior; Betty McGee, Harris, sophomore; Beatrice Leeson, Maryville, senior; Maxine Daniel, Maysville, junior; and Emma Lee Vance, Smithville, junior.

Student handbooks, published by the Senate, were distributed to all first year students who enrolled Tuesday afternoon. Due to the fact that the handbooks were printed last year, they did not include the revision of the section entitled "Regulations Regarding Organizations." The revision follows:

Article 6 of the section was stricken from the handbook and the following inserted in its place: A student shall be limited to holding not more than one major and two minor or four minor offices during any one term. The major offices are as follows: president of the Student Government Association, editor-in-chief of the Tower, editor-in-chief of The Northwest Missourian, business manager of the Tower, president of any class. The minor offices are all the other offices of any student organization, including a seat on the Student Senate.

The Student Senate is composed of the president and vice-president of the Association, together with three members from each of the existing freshman, sophomore and junior classes, elected during the spring quarter and two members from the oncoming freshman class to be elected at the beginning of the winter quarter.

In the first freshman assembly Tuesday morning, Mr. A. H. Cooper, freshman adviser, was in charge of the proceedings. He gave the freshmen instruction in enrolling and in other matters.

Dr. J. C. Miller, dean of the College faculty, presented the welcoming address to the freshmen from the College. He explained the freshmen activities during the first few days in College and gave the freshmen advice as to their proceedings during the first weeks of the new term.

Other persons who were introduced by Mr. Cooper were Dr. Margaret Ruth Smith, new dean of women's activities, Mr. Norval Saylor, dean of men's activities, Alex Sawyers, president of the College Young Men's Christian Association, and the members of the Student Senate and their aides.

Immediately following the assembly, the freshmen were free to return to their homes. Enrollment began for the first year students at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

LAMAR TO ST. JOSEPH

Announcement was made last week of the resignation from the Elmo public schools of Stephen G. LaMar, former publicity director of the College, who this year is employed in the St. Joseph school system. Nolan Bruce, superintendent of the Elmo system and a graduate of the College, announced that Mrs. Wilford Bain would substitute in LaMar's place until a regular teacher could be employed.

IS NAMED ATTENDANT

Fern Adams, a junior in the College, was named as one of the eight attendants to "Miss Nocomo," beauty queen of Nodaway county chosen Tuesday of last week as a feature of the Nodaway county fall fair in Maryville.

Joy Hansen of Clearmont was named "Miss Nocomo," and Bernice Owens of Maryville was named her lady-in-waiting. Approximately 40 girls from over Nodaway county competed in the contest.

Seven Additions to Faculty This Fall

garet Stephenson, who last spring resigned from the faculty here to accept a position as dean of women at the University of Oklahoma in Norman, is Dr. Margaret Ruth Smith. Dr. Smith received the B. A. degree from Goucher college, and the M. A. and Ph.D. degrees from Columbia university in New York City.

Miss June Cozine, a graduate of the College in the class of 1927, is a new addition to the home economics department, of which Miss Hettie Anthony is chairman. Miss Cozine received the Master's degree at the University of Missouri in 1936, and has done graduate work at the University of Colorado and West Virginia University. She has taught in the following schools: University high school at Columbia, Mo., Braymer, Mo., high school and West Virginia University in Morgantown.

Although he taught in the English department at the College here during the summer term, Mr. Dwight Dorrough may be termed a "new" teacher on the English faculty. He will substitute for Miss Mattie M. Dykes, who is this year taking work toward the Doctor's degree at the University of Chicago. Mr. Dorrough received the B. A. and M. A. degrees from the University of Texas.

Mr. Ryland Milner, new athletic coach of the Maryville Bearcats football teams, will do part time work in the industrial arts department, and part time work in the athletic department. Mr. Milner received the B. S. degree from the College here, and has taught for the past four years at the Jackson, Mo., high school. He is working for the M. A. degree at the University of Louisiana.
